Much Needed Rain for Montgomery County

The Lone Star Groundwater Conservation District acknowledges the receipt of a much needed rain. It is important to remember that although the rain has been plentiful in some areas of the County; our critical water situation is not alleviated by the current weather pattern. Water restrictions should remain in place as "one good storm" does not end a drought. Drought restrictions are not put in place without much thought and consideration for impact on each community. It is common for rain to bring relief in terms of heat and concern for supplies, however, it is essential that restrictions remain in place and be followed to the letter. Landscape watering and other outdoor discretionary uses if reduced or eliminated can greatly reduce the strain on existing supplies. The Lone Star Groundwater District and Water IQ reminds you that "Every day is a chance to save".
